Creighton Law

All aspects of academic life at the Creighton University School of Law empower you to fulfill your potential. Classes are small and professors know who you are. Our students come from diverse backgrounds and will broaden your perspectives. Speakers and student organizations connect you to the world beyond the classroom.

CONNECT TO YOUR CAREER

You want a powerful future in the law. Creighton Law will help you get there. Each year, our graduates are successful in finding JD-preferred or JD-advantage positions. From our 2021 graduating class:

- 87% were employed, enrolled in a full-time degree program or not seeking employment 10 months after graduation.
- Of those employed, 92.3% were in JD-preferred or JD-advantage positions.

PREPARE FOR SUCCESS

Our professors bring years of experience and knowledge to the classroom. For example, consider our adjunct professors: They're judges, prosecutors, public defenders, practicing lawyers at firms.

And they become your mentors—eager to share with you what they know.

EXPLORE YOUR INTERESTS

At Creighton Law, you can focus your studies through 8 areas of concentration:

- Business, Commercial and Tax Law
- Criminal Law and Procedure
- Dispute Resolution
- Energy, Environmental and Sustainability of Law
- Litigation
- International and Comparative Law
- Health Care Law
- Family Law
- Sports Law

HOW TO APPLY

- Take the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT).
- Register with the Law School Admission Council (LSAC) Credential Assembly Service (CAS): lsac.org
This includes applicants presenting foreign credentials.
- Complete the LSAC Electronic Application.
- Submit your application by March 31, 2023 for priority scholarship consideration. The application deadline is July 1, 2023.
